Animation

Avoid flashing content
It can be irritating for people with photosensitivity, and a series of flashes can trigger seizures.

Pause, stop, hide
Allow users to pause, stop or hide website content that moves, blinks or scrolls.

Avoid creating animations with a foreground and background that move at different speeds

Avoid animations that loop endlessly - it's best to disable them by default

Provide good contrast between the text and a moving background

For in-depth guidance, visit: www.sightsavers.org/animation-accessibility or scan the QR code here